

ATLAS Consultation Pack

28/04/2021

Summary

This week Rachael Wardell will be attending ATLAS to meet us and take part in a live Q and A session! Under 18s and 18+ groups will be in the Q and A together, before we split into our separate groups for consultation. We will be talking about what a crisis line for under 18s means to young people as well as reviewing the updates on our bullying Action Card! Of course, we also have lots of information and updates for you. We are looking forward to seeing you there!

Staff this week:

Sabrina, Sarah, Olivia, Holly and Joe!

Agenda Points!

- Rachel Wardell Q & A
- Break
- Information and Updates
- Francesca Carr attending ATLAS reminder
- Action card wording
- Birthday messages
- 24/7 Mental Health Crisis line
- Action Card Review
- Games and Activities Discussion

Get Involved!

Join us online via Zoom every Wednesday between 5 to 7 pm! Chat opens 30 minutes earlier at 4:30pm for anyone who wants to have a casual chat beforehand.

If you are unable to attend you can still have your voice heard by contacting us by email, through social media or by texting/phoning a member of the ATLAS staff.

Information and Updates

Francesca Carr Visiting

"My name is Frankiee and I have just started working for Surrey Council. My role is quite exciting as I get to work with children and young people, families, carers, council staff and partner organisations to make sure your experiences (the good and the bad) help to improve the support we provide for you both now and in the future.

I am really excited to meet you and would love to pop along to ATLAS regularly, to listen to your experiences and add some support to the different project activities you're working on.

I have worked in youth participation for nearly 10 years. One of my favourite experiences was when I managed the participation service for Southampton City Council. Together with young people we created Southampton's first ever participation strategy:

If you feel comfortable, I would love to come along to ATLAS on Wednesday 5th May to meet you!"

New Action card wording

Olivia attended a training course last week and came across another way of wording a point. It was thought this way could be good for our action cards:

As a.. I want.. So that

- As a – the role
- I want – the need
- So that – the value

An example Action Card:

As young people with additional needs and disabilities we would like services in Surrey to stop using the term Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) and instead use Additional Needs and Disabilities so that [young person quote] “special is replaced with additional needs, it shouldn’t say special, people make fun of special.”

I think using this method would make our Action Cards clearer for professionals. What do you guys think?

Birthday Messages

Would you like a Birthday message on your birthday from ATLAS Staff?

24/7 Mental Health Crisis Line

There will soon be a new crisis line number for under 18's to call if you're worried about yourself, or your family are worried about you. It will be open all day and night, every day of the week. It's free and no referral is needed!

0800 9154644

The new number will launch on 4 May 2021.

The Crisis line would like to know: What will a 24/7 crisis line mean to you?

Action Card Updates

ACTION CARD #116

Bullying seems to continue to be prevalent and the young people believe that education on stigma as well as mental health and SEND throughout year groups and staff networks would help to decrease this

Response:

- Schools can apply for support and training from 'Surrey County Council Anti-Bullying Charter Mark' (payment needed) and the 'Anti-Bullying Alliance: All Together Programme' which is free for Surrey schools.
- Surrey Healthy Schools is the approach that schools need to be following, it supports: effective PSHE teaching and learning, addressing stereotyping, pupil voice, inclusion and anti-bullying work
- They also have a 'Self-Evaluation Tool' that schools can use to make sure they are following the Healthy Schools' principles

ACTION CARD #116

Bullying seems to continue to be prevalent and the young people believe that education on stigma as well as mental health and SEND throughout year groups and staff networks would help to decrease this

Response:

Ben Bartlett, Lead for Surrey Head Teachers, had this to say:

- "I spoke to our Equalities student group today and we talked about bullying and one of the areas that we think we (all schools) can work on is empowering students to stand up for others. Stonewall talk about no bystanders and so educating students on how to stand up for others without the use of violence or cruelty is essential."
- "I think putting together resources that educate students on language that is acceptable and what is not acceptable is vital too. Some students hear things at home and think that it's ok to repeat them. So it can easily become a whole community approach that includes parents and carers."

ACTION CARD #116

Bullying seems to continue to be prevalent and the young people believe that education on stigma as well as mental health and SEND throughout year groups and staff networks would help to decrease this

Response:

- The UVP Team are presenting as part of the Surrey Healthy Schools training in May. This is a chance for us to promote the benefits of participation in school, including the fact that it helps build good relationships and enables young people to have a say in the issues that are affecting them.

Are you happy to close this action card?

When would you like progress to be reviewed?

Games and Activities

Games: Would you like to do games/ice breakers/activities some weeks in place of asking what you have been up to - this is largely covered in chit-chat now. E.g. 2 truths, 1 lie; alphabet game, breathing/grounding techniques.

How long would you like for check-in and check-out?
Is 20 minutes long enough?

Activities: Meeting outside after June 21st. Where would you like to go?

Check Out

- Do you feel like your voice has been heard?
- What are your plans for the evening?
- Is there anything else you would like to add or ask?
- Do you need any help this week?
